CLOUD designed by Jonas Wagell 2013

Cloud is a further development of the ordinary white opal globe; a soft, billowing cloud shape that is created by blowing glass into a mould and giving it an acid-etched finish. Cloud has a red light-filter that gradually colours the top of the glass when lit. It looks good seen from different heights. The lamp is suspended with a wire attached to the lamp fixture inside.

CYMBAL designed by Helena Svensson 2012

belysningsbolaget

Cymbal, designed by Helena Svensson, has taken its name from the world of music. Inspired by the instrument's simple shape, size and position Helena has created a floor light and a pendant.

"The instrument has always fascinated me emotionally as well as sculpturally. This simple shape is a striking element in design," says Helena.

By adapting the shape of the Cymbal, with its surprisingly light design reminiscent of a trophy or shield, the designer pays homage to fine craftsmanship and draws attention to the way light spreads so beautifully over the contours.

Diffus is simple in its basic shape but is curved into a construction that ensures that the pliability of the material retains the light. Together, the form and the recyclable anodised aluminium create a lampshade that subtly and gently diffuses the light that it casts.

Diffus is available in two sizes and three colours and comes with a 4 watt or a 7 watt LED bulb.

DOLLY designed by Louise Hederström 2009

"I wanted to challenge the classic shape of a globe and see if I could give it a new character and function. It was important to create a lamp that gives a good light and is useful in many different spaces and contexts. Since the classic constellation globe inspires the floor lamp, I wanted it to be adjustable so that the user could change the light and expression of the lamp. The shape has a strong character, looking kind and a bit plastic, just like the artist."

"Everything around us is a source of inspiration and worth a second look. PegCollection is inspired by the clothes peg. When we create a product, our starting point is often something small, simple and very ordinary. Our ambition with PegCollection was to create a lamp that stirs recognition, giving the viewer an aha-experience. Not only a light source, the sculptural quality of PegCollection creates a strong personality, its boldly simple form allowing PegCollection to fit perfectly into both the home and public environment.
